Dear Mr. Ashcroft:

I am writing you today to express my opinion in regards to the Microsoft settlement issue. I support the settlement reached between Microsoft and the government, and I support this company in this three-year-long debate. I hope this litigation against Microsoft can end with the finalization of this settlement.

This settlement is a complete agreement, which Microsoft has agreed to fully uphold. Microsoft has agreed to license its Windows operating system products to the 20 largest computer makers and has agreed to grant computer makers broad new rights to configure Windows so as to promote non-Microsoft software programs that compete with programs included within Windows.

Please support this settlement. The provisions included in this agreement are fair and will benefit consumers and the economy. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
